MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER

Dear Esteemed Partners, Supporters, and Friends,

Every journey begins with a dream, but it's the unwavering commitment to that dream that transforms lives and builds futures. At Spursbase Foundation, we've walked this journey not only with passion but also with a deep sense of responsibility. As we step into communities, classrooms, and homes, we encounter countless stories, stories of resilience, hope, and dreams waiting to be realized.

This year, we have empowered over 1,000 students, equipped more than 200 children in 7 schools through our Send A Child Back to School Initiative, and created life-changing opportunities for girls with the Pad The Girl Campaign. But beyond these numbers lies something even greater: the unbreakable spirit of children determined to rise above their circumstances, and families whose hope is rekindled by the support they receive.

Our work is far from easy. We face countless challenges—limited resources, cultural barriers, and societal norms that often hinder progress. Yet, it's precisely these obstacles that reveal our strength. They've shaped us into resilient, innovative, and purpose-driven individuals. These challenges are a constant reminder of why we do what we do: because every child deserves the opportunity to dream, to learn, and to thrive.

Myles Munroe once said, "The wealthiest place on earth is the cemetery. Buried there are businesses that were never launched, inventions that were never created, bestselling books that were never written, and masterpieces that were never brought to life. The cemetery holds the greatest treasure of all—untapped potential."

At Spursbase Foundation, we refuse to let dreams go untapped. We are driven by the belief that when we invest in a child today, we are investing in the future of an entire nation. When we provide school supplies, advocate for girls' education, or empower parents to save for their children's education, we are planting seeds of hope that will grow into forests of opportunity.

But we cannot do this alone. Your support whether it's through donations, partnerships, or volunteering fuels this mission. You are an integral part of this journey, and together, we can reach even more children, empower more families, and transform more communities.

Let's keep moving forward on this journey with passion, love, and a shared vision for a brighter tomorrow. Together, we're doing more than just changing lives—we're shaping the next generation of leaders, innovators, and dreamers.

Thank you for standing with us. Thank you for believing in this mission. The future is brighter because of you.

With heartfelt gratitude,

Raphael Kwame Akorli Afudzagbo,
Board Chair, Founder & Executive Director,
Spursbase Foundation.

OUR JOURNEY

Since our inception, Spursbase Foundation has embarked on a transformative journey to empower children and their communities through education, advocacy, and development initiatives. Guided by our mission, we have consistently strived to bridge the gap for children in vulnerable and underserved communities, ensuring no child is left behind.

Our journey has been one of growth, learning, and impactful service. We began with a simple yet profound vision: to create a world where every child has the opportunity to thrive and succeed. Over the years, this vision has translated into real, measurable impact, bringing hope and opportunity to hundreds of children and families across Ghana.

Empowering Girls in Science and Technology

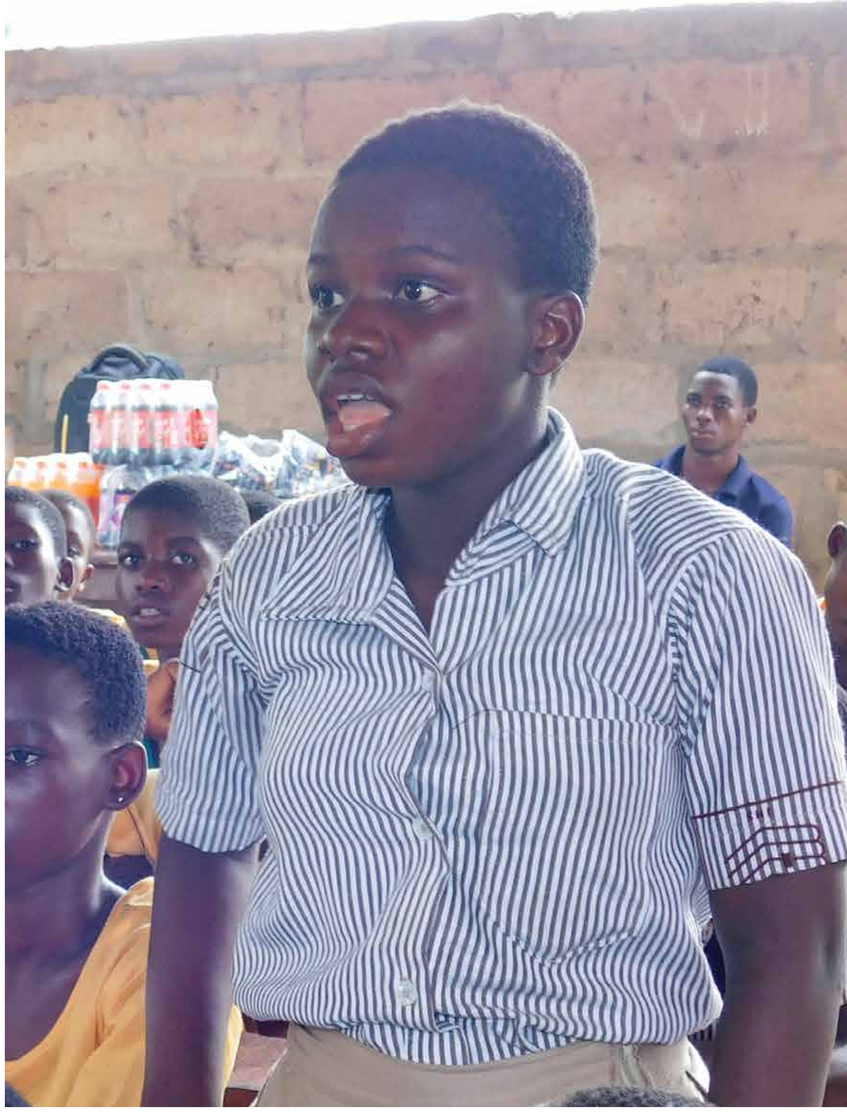

In 2024, Spursbase Foundation intensified its focus on girl child education, emphasizing the importance of encouraging girls to explore science and technology. Education, in our view, goes beyond the classroom it must be dynamic, equipping students to thrive and make informed decisions with the right mentorship and role models.

On February 23, 2024, we marked the International Day of Women and Girls in Science and Technology with an impactful event in the Mafi Zongo Circuit. The program brought together 137 students from four schools, engaging them in activities that highlighted opportunities in STEM, broke gender stereotypes, and connected them with inspiring mentors.

Key Outcomes

- Enhanced awareness of career opportunities in STEM.
- Practical sessions that built confidence and inspired aspirations.
- Established mentor-mentee connections for ongoing guidance.

Though we faced challenges such as limited resources and logistical hurdles, the overwhelmingly positive feedback from participants reaffirmed the program's success. This initiative is a stepping stone in our mission to ensure that every girl has the opportunity to dream big and achieve even bigger.

Pad The Girl Campaign

At Spursbase Foundation, we understand that menstrual health is critical to ensuring that girls stay in school and reach their full potential. In 2024, we continued our efforts to address the challenges many girls face due to limited access to menstrual hygiene education and resources.

Through the Pad The Girl Campaign, we reached 300 girls in vulnerable communities, providing them with essential supplies and equipping them with knowledge about menstrual health. This initiative not only addressed a pressing need but also empowered these young girls with confidence and the ability to focus on their education without interruption.

Impact Highlights

- Increased awareness of menstrual hygiene among 300 girls.
- Enhanced school attendance and participation.
- Fostered a supportive environment for open discussions about menstrual health.

The smiles on their faces and the feedback from teachers and parents underscore the importance of this campaign. We remain committed to breaking the barriers that hinder girls' education, one step at a time.

The Duafe Sisterhood and Brotherhood Project, conducted in partnership with One Seed and Start From Ghana Foundation, addressed critical issues affecting the lives of young people in the Volta Region. The program focused on educating participants about menstrual health, sex education, addiction and self-control, and mental health, fostering a holistic approach to personal development.

In 2024, the initiative reached 70 girls and 35 boys, equipping them with knowledge and tools to navigate these topics effectively. For the female participants, the program also included the donation of menstrual kits, ensuring they had the resources needed to manage their menstrual health confidently and with dignity.

Impact Highlights

- 105 participants educated on essential topics promoting personal and social well-being.
- Menstrual kits donated to female students, supporting hygiene and school attendance.
- Enhanced understanding of mental health and self-control among participants.

Wellness 360

In 2024, the Spursbase Foundation deepened its commitment to promoting health and well-being through the Wellness 360 program. This year's focus expanded to include critical health issues, enhancing the program's impact on both students and parents.

The Duafe Program was introduced as part of Wellness 360, addressing mental health, sex education, addiction and self-control, and menstrual health. These topics were carefully chosen to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to navigate life's challenges.

Additionally, a comprehensive health screening was organized for parents and students, focusing on HIV, blood sugar levels, and blood pressure. This initiative highlighted the importance of preventive care and early detection. Essential medical equipment such as sphygmomanometers, glucometers, and urine test strips were donated to improve access to healthcare in the communities we serve.

STORIES OF IMPACT

Meet Winfred

Winfred is a determined 15-year-old whose life has been marked by profound challenges. After losing his mother, he was left in the care of his aunt, who struggles with health issues. The family's financial constraints meant that Winfred often had to forgo his education to work on a farm, earning just enough to cover his basic needs and occasional school expenses.

Despite these hardships, Winfred never gave up on his dream of becoming a teacher. His resilience and determination caught the attention of a volunteer from Spursbase Foundation, who brought his situation to light. Moved by his story, the foundation enrolled him in the Send a Child Back to School Initiative, providing him with the resources and support he needed to return to school.

Today, Winfred is thriving in his education, with renewed hope and a clear path toward achieving his goals. He no longer has to choose between working and learning; instead, he is fully focused on his studies and building a brighter future.

"Now, I have hope again," he shares. "I am grateful to Spursbase Foundation for giving me the chance to dream and for supporting me on this journey to becoming a teacher."

Winfred's story reminds us of the life-changing power of education and the importance of extending a helping hand to those in need. It is a story of resilience, community, and the belief that every child deserves the opportunity to thrive.

Meet Edith

Edith is a bright and ambitious 16-year-old Form 3 student whose life took a transformative turn through her involvement with Spursbase Foundation’s programs. Growing up, Edith struggled with self-confidence and the ability to express herself in public, which often held her back from pursuing her aspirations.

When Edith joined Spursbase Foundation’s initiatives, she discovered a platform where her voice mattered and her potential could shine. Through public speaking training, interactive sessions, and the encouragement of mentors, Edith found the courage to step out of her shell.

"Participating in Spursbase Foundation’s programs has been a turning point for me," Edith shares. "I’ve learned how to speak confidently in public, and I can now memorize things better. These skills have given me the courage to pursue my dream of becoming a journalist."

Edith’s newfound confidence has not only transformed her outlook but also inspired her peers. She now leads discussions in class, takes part in school activities, and motivates others to overcome their fears.

"Spursbase Foundation has shown me that I can achieve anything I set my mind to. They have given me the tools and the belief that my voice can make a difference," she adds with a smile.

Edith’s story highlights the profound impact of empowerment and mentorship, showing how a little support can ignite big dreams.

Meet Arnold

Arnold is a 15-year-old whose resilience and determination have shaped his inspiring journey. As the fifth born in a family facing significant financial challenges, Arnold found himself at the brink of dropping out of school. With no resources to continue his education, his dreams of a brighter future seemed to fade.

"I was about to give up on school. The struggles at home were overwhelming, and I thought my dreams were over," Arnold recalls.

Arnold’s life changed when he crossed paths with Spursbase Foundation through the Send a Child Back to School Initiative. Recognizing his potential and desire to learn, the foundation provided the support he needed to return to school.

Today, Arnold is not only back in the classroom but thriving. He has developed strong reading skills and gained the confidence to speak in public something he never thought possible.

"Now, I can dream again," Arnold says with renewed hope. "I can read, understand, and speak confidently in public. Thanks to Spursbase Foundation, I have a new chance at life, and I’m working hard to achieve my dream of becoming a teacher."

Arnold’s journey is a powerful reminder of the life-changing impact of education and the importance of never giving up, even in the face of adversity.

Meet Lawrence

Lawrence, a quiet and timid Form 3 student, once struggled with low self-esteem and an inability to express himself in public. Speaking in front of others felt impossible, and his shyness often kept him from fully participating in class activities.

Everything changed when Lawrence joined Spursbase Foundation’s programs, particularly the Send a Child Back to School Initiative. Through interactive sessions, mentorship, and support, he began to transform.

"Before, I couldn’t speak in public, and I felt so small. But now, I have learned to be bold. I can read, understand, and confidently express myself in public," Lawrence shares.

The foundation also provided Lawrence with essential school supplies, like a bag to carry his books, ensuring he had the tools he needed for success.

"The advice and coaching I received have shaped my life. I feel prepared to face challenges and take on opportunities," he adds with pride.

Lawrence’s journey from timidity to confidence exemplifies the profound impact of empowerment and education.

A Headteacher's Perspective

The impact of Spursbase Foundation's programs is evident not only in the lives of individual students but also in the overall atmosphere of the school.

"The involvement of Spursbase Foundation has changed the lifestyle of many students in my school. Before, it was difficult to get students to engage in activities, but now, they are eager to participate. Their attitude toward learning has shifted dramatically—they are hungry to learn," the headteacher shares.

The foundation's support has fostered a culture of curiosity, enthusiasm, and purpose among students, creating a ripple effect of positive change.

"Your programs have shaped the lives of these children for the better. On behalf of the students and the school, I say thank you for the incredible work you are doing."

MEDIA ENGAGEMENT AND ADVOCACY

In 2024, Spursbase Foundation expanded its advocacy efforts through media engagement. The Foundation was featured on two prominent radio stations, Ana FM and Swiss FM, where we had the opportunity to highlight our projects and discuss the mission of our NGO.

These platforms allowed us to emphasize the importance of education and the transformative impact it has on individuals and communities. By reaching a broader audience, we were able to inspire conversations on the value of empowerment, access to quality education, and the role of community support in driving sustainable change.
